REPUBLICANS NOMINATED

HARMONY CHARACTERIZES THE PROCEEDINGS.

At the Gathering at Burke's Hall Last Evening, Nearly All Selections Were Made Unanimously. Chairman Humphrey Presides. List of Candidates Nominated.

The Republican city convention was held last evening in Burke's hall, on Sixth avenue, and the proceedings went through quietly and harmoniously as was expected, nearly every nomination being made unanimously. There were one or two minor interruptions to the quiet proceedings, but they did not disturb the deliberations of the convention in the slightest, as the interrupters subsided immediately when they were told they were out of order. The convention lasted just forty minutes from the time of the chairman's rapping for order until the meeting was adjourned. Enthusiasm was freely displayed when the nominations were announced.

At 8:20 Duane W. Humphrey, chairman of the city committee, called the convention to order. City Clerk N. L. Moon was temporary secretary. The first business done was to call the districts in rotation and accept the credentials of the delegates. As the roll was called each delegate responded. All went smoothly until the Fourth ward was reached, when in the First and Second districts contesting delegations appeared. These were the only contests.

Chairman Humphrey appointed R. D. Stuart, J. B. Shannon and J. J. Jones as a committee on contested seats, and they took the credentials of the disputing delegates. After a short deliberation they decided that Andrew G. Nicol, of the First district, Fourth ward, be seated, instead of Anthony Llewellyn, and in the Second district, Fourth ward, they gave the seat to Frank Francy in place of P. J. McHugh.

Then Chairman Humphrey called for nominations for permanent chairman. Frank Smith and A. D. Wylie were named, but both gentlemen declined, and R. D. Stuart was nominated and unanimously elected. For temporary secretary Norman J. Gelder and Fred Thomas were named and a standing vote taken, Thomas being elected to the position by a vote of 18 to 15.

Chairman Stuart advised the delegates getting together from the various wards and considering nominations for school directors, common councilmen, aldermen and poor directors, where those officers were to be nominated. The first discussion was over school directors. Delegates got into bunches it looked as if several large Sunday school classes were in session, with an earnest leader or teacher explaining some obscure point. A background of interested spectators were in the rear of the benches set aside for the delegates. There were about three spectators to each delegate.

In a few minutes the chairman announced that the delegates were ready to report on the nominations for school directors. These were the nominations:

For School Director, one year, First, Fifth and Sixth wards—Gustave H. Swigert.

For School Director, three years, same wards—Robert M. Vannan.

For School Director, three years, Third and Fourth wards—Thomas Boylan.

Messrs. Vannan and Boylan were nominated unanimously. Mr. Swigert had an opponent in G. B. Van Gorder, who received 8 votes to Mr. Swigert's 15.

The nominations for councilmen, aldermen and poor directors were next in order, and the chairman advised the same course as before. Again the heads were bowed together and in a shorter time than previously the delegates announced their readiness to proceed. The following nominations were declared, amid much applause:

First ward—Common council, Earl M. Peck and Fred Thompson; poor director, James McMillan.

Third ward—Common council, Charles A. Kase and Robert Whitfield.

Fourth ward—Poor director, James Burke.

Fifth ward—Common councilmen, Ervin H. Stone and William H. Masters; alderman, Loring I. Bunnell.

When the nominations were declared a list of the district officers were read, with the exception of the Second district of the Sixth ward, which sent no delegation. The convention then adjourned.

Following is the complete list of the delegates seated:

First ward—First district, Frank Smith, H. B. Briggs, J. B. Shannon, M. H. Tappan, R. McMillan, T. Morgan, Third district, Felix Paone, Luigi Morano.

Second ward—First district, Isaac Rogers, William B. Evans, Second district, J. Norman Gelder, William Barber, Third district, Anthony O'Hara.

Third ward—First district, W. D. Evans, W. B. Geary, Second district, Fred Thomas, John Price, Thomas Connell, Fourth district, J. D. Schermerhorn, George S. Seidler, William Hughes.

Fourth ward—First district, Andrew G. Nicol, Second district, Frank Francy, Third district, John Killeen.

Fifth ward—First district, A. D. Wylie, C. Alexander, E. H. Stone, W. H. Masters, R. D. Stuart; Second district, Frank O'Hara.

Sixth ward—First district, Harry Williams, J. J. Delevan, Robert Board, James Morgan.

Tonight—"A Woman's Redemption." Matinee tomorrow—"A Romance of Corven."

Tomorrow night—"Human Wolves of New York."

The Germania's Ball.

The Germania Singing society's ball last evening was as great a success as had been anticipated. Many dancers thronged the handsomely decorated rooms and a number of pretty, grotesque and comical costumes were worn by the dancers. At 12 o'clock all unmasked and many were the exclamations of surprise at the identity of unsuspected wearers of costumes. Profs. Collins and Firth had charge of the music and dancing. The enjoyment was kept up until 2 o'clock this morning.

CORNELL-HAWKINS.

Two Young Persons of This City United at Baptist Parsonage.

Henry Cornell, of Laurel street, and Miss Edith Hawkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Job Hawkins, of Sand street, were quietly married at the parsonage of the Berean Baptist church by the Rev. Dr. Whalen, on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. A few friends accompanied them and witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a gown of blue brocade silk, trimmed with duchesse lace and ribbons. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cornell drove to the residence of the bride's parents, where the family of each had a supper.

The bridegroom has for several years been a trusted and esteemed employee of ex-Mayor Hendrick. The bride is well known as one of the most active workers in the Berean Baptist church and Sunday school and as an officer of the city's social and fraternal organizations. They will make their future home in this city.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Jennie Stanton Potts.

Mrs. Jennie Stanton Potts, of Waymart, died at the Emergency hospital in this city yesterday morning, where she underwent an operation on Jan. 6. The body was taken in charge by Undertaker J. H. Stephenson, of Waymart, who came to this city and prepared it for burial at the Purple funeral parlors. It was taken to her late home early in the afternoon.

Mrs. Potts was a native of Waymart and was the daughter of F. H. Stanton. She was 37 years of age. She was an active member of the Presbyterian church of Waymart and one of its foremost workers. She is survived by a son, aged 5, and a daughter, aged 2, two sisters, Mrs. William Matthews, of Clinton, and Miss Helen Stanton, of Waymart; her father and one brother, Professor Edgar Stanton, professor of mathematics and political economy in the State College of Iowa. Contrary to William Edgett, of this city, is her cousin. The funeral will probably be held tomorrow at Waymart.

WILLIAM SCOTT KILLED.

Meets Death in Binghamton by Falling from a Train.

William Scott, formerly of this city, was killed last night near Binghamton. He was a brakeman on the Erie railroad, his run being from Binghamton to this city, his home being in Susquehanna. John Scott, his brother, mine foreman at Coalbrook breaker, went to Susquehanna yesterday afternoon to investigate, no details of the accident having come here.

The following is taken from yesterday morning's Binghamton Republican and is supposed to be in regard to Mr. Scott's death:

"An unknown man was crushed and instantly killed by an extra freight at the Chenango street crossing of the Erie about 2 o'clock this morning. He was mangled beyond recognition."

"Shortly after 1 o'clock he came into the Erie waiting room and engaged in conversation with a young man who was waiting for Erie passenger train No. 10, which leaves at about 1:40 for the east."

"He said that he was bound for Susquehanna and asked the man to awaken him when the train started. The young man forgot to do it, and not until after the passenger train had departed did he wake up."

"The extra freight was just passing through at the time and he rushed out the door, caught the step and handle and crawled up to the top. That is the last that was seen of him until screams were heard by an old gentleman who was waiting for the train to pass. He saw the man fall just as he passed under the viaduct. He was dragged four hundred feet by the axle of the wheels."

"He told somebody at the depot that he was a brakeman and lived at Susquehanna. He was medium height, of stout build, wore a light sandy moustache, and had no overcoat on him. His remains were taken to Cornell's undertaking rooms."

"Mr. Scott was born thirty-one years ago in this city and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scott. He resided here continuously until five years ago, when he went to Susquehanna. He has been in the employ of the Erie company as brakeman for several years and was known as a cautious and capable employee. He was a young man of excellent habits and was a prominent member of the Railroad Trainmen Brotherhood."

He is survived by three brothers, John Patrick, of Brooklyn street, and Edward and John, of Chenango street, and a sister, Mrs. Michael Tighe, Mrs. James Surodval, Mrs. Michael Gallagher and Mrs. George Mannion, all of this city. He was unmarried.

The remains will be brought to this city for interment. The funeral will be announced later.

Were Acquitted.

Donald Young was waylaid by three men in Simpson about two months ago and was robbed of all his valuables. The only description he could give of them was that they were traveling negro musicians, as shortly before the hold-up he had seen them in a bar room playing. Since then he has kept his eyes open for them, but to no avail, until this week he found three darkies playing in a central city saloon and immediately had a warrant sworn out for their arrest. The darkies were taken before Alderman J. R. Delevan, but there not being sufficient evidence to incriminate them, they were acquitted.

Will Remove Next Week.

The Salem avenue store of D. W. Humphrey, which was badly damaged by fire and water a few days before Christmas, will soon be in readiness to be re-occupied. A force of carpenters and mechanics have been hard at work for the past fortnight rebuilding the interior. A number of improvements have been made, notably in the electric, which will add greatly to the appearance of the store. Mr. Humphrey expects to be back in his old location by Wednesday morning, moving before darkness and daylight.

High School Entertainment.

The Literary society of the Carbondale high school gave one of its enjoyable entertainments this evening in the auditorium of the Central school building. Following is the programme that will be given: Piano solo, Miss Graham; recitation, W. McHale; vocal duet, Messrs. Murphy and Brown; reading, Miss Delany; piano solo, Miss Kirby; essay, R. Meaker; vocal solo, Miss Morgan; reading, J. Loftus; piano solo, Miss Graham.

Baptist Supper Tonight.

The annual supper of the Berean Baptist church will take place in the church parlors this evening from 5:30 to 8:30 o'clock. A special menu will be served and a social feast, as well as a literary one, will be enjoyed by the participants. The annual reception on Wednesday evening was such a success that the ladies are anticipating a like result for their supper.

Michael Moran Comfortable.

Michael Moran, who received such terrible injuries by being hurt by a fall of mine props on Wednesday afternoon, was quite comfortable last evening at the Emergency hospital, or as much as a man can be who has just had an arm amputated and is a mass of bruises from his head to his feet. He is now out of danger unless complications ensue.

A Fractured Arm.

The 2-year-old daughter of Patrolman and Mrs. Patrick Carden, of Belle, while climbing on a chair lost her balance and toppled over, striking on the floor with her arm under her. The limb was fractured. The little girl is now resting comfortably and it is expected that she will soon be all right.

Comes Here for Treatment.

Edward Owens, of Seelyville, who has his back broken in a runaway accident about three months ago, is now at the Carbondale hospital for treatment by the surgical staff there. Since the accident he has been helpless.
